POETRY.

Thoughts of the Place and Time. As men beneath some load of grief, Or sudden joy, will dumbly stand,
Finding no words to give relief—
Clear, passion-warm, precise, and brief—
To thoughts with which their souls expand;
So here to-day—these trophies nigh— Our trembling lips no utterance reach; The hills around—the graves—the sky— The silent poem of the eye

Surpasses all the arts of speech!

To day a Nation meets to build A Nation's trophy to the dead, . Who, living, formed her sword and shield-The arms she sadly learned to wield.
When other hope of peace had fled.
And not alone for those who lie-In honored graves before us blent, Shall our proud column, broad and high, Climb upward to the smiling sky, But be for all a monument.

An emblem of our grief, as well For others as for those, we raise; For these beneath our feet who dwell, And all who in the good cause fell On other fields, in other frays.
To at a self-same love we bear
Whiterhere for marble memory strives;

No soldier for a wreath would care

Which all true comrades might not share— Brothers in death as in their lives! On Southern hill-sides, parched and brown, In tangled swamp, on verdant ridge, Where pines and broadening oaks look down, And jasmine weaves its yellow crown, And trumpet creepers clothe the hedge. Along the shores of endless sand. Beneath the palms of Southern plains, Steep everywhere, hand locked in hand,

The brothers of the gallant band Who here poured life thro' throbling verns Around the closing eyes of all The same red glories glared and fl. w-The tossing flags, the bugle call, The whiche of the angry ball, The elbow touch of comrades true The skirmish fire—a spattering spany; The long, sharp growl of fire by ble, The thickening fury of the fray When opening batteries get in play, And the lines form o'er many a mi'e The foeman's yell, our answering theer.

The headlong charges, swift and bright,
The thickening tunult of the fight
And bursting thunders of the shell.

Now denser, deadlier, grows the strife, And here we yield, and there we gan; The air with hurtling missiles tile, Volicy for volley, life for life— No time to feed the cries of pair ! Panting as up the bills we charge, Or down them as we broken roll. Life never felt so high, so large, And never o'er so wide a marge In triumph swept the kinelling soul!

New raptures waken in the breast Amid this hell of scene and sound: The barking batteries never rest, And broken foot, by horsemen pressed, Still stubbornly contest their ground. Fresh waves of battle rolling in To take the place of shattered waves:

Torn lines each moment grow more thin—

A blinding cloud, a maddening din—

Twas thus were filled these very graves! * * * * * *
Night falls at length with pitying veil, A moonlit silence deep and fresh; These upturned features cold and pale, Vainly the chill night dews assail-For colder than the dews their flesh! And flickering far through brush and wood So scarching parties, torch in hand— "Seize if you can some rest and food,

At dawn the fight will be renewed, Sleep on your arms!" the hushed command Steep on your arms!" the hushed command.

They talk in whispers as they lie
In line—these wough and weary men;
"Dead or but wounded?" then a sigh;
"No coffee either!" "Quess we'll try
To get those two guns back again."
"We've five flags to their one! oho!"
"That bridge, 'twas hot there as we pass'd."
"The Colonel dead! It can't be so;
Wounded and badly—that I know
But he kept saddle to the last."

"Be sure to send it if I fall-" "Any tobacco? Bill, have you?"
"A brown-haired, blue-eyed, laughing doll

"Good night, boys, and God keep you all!"
"What, sound asleep? Guess I'll sleep too." "Yes, just about this hour they pray For Dad—" "Stop talking! pass the word." And soon as quiet as the clay Which thousands will but be next day, The long-drawn sighs of sleep are heard!

* * * * * * *
Oh. men! to whom this sketch, though rude, Calls back some scene of pain and pride: Oh, widow! hagging close your broad, Oh, wife! with happiness renewed, Since he again is at your side; This trophy that to-day we raise, Should be a monument for all,

And on its sides no niggard phrase Confine a generous Nation's praise To those who here have chanced to fall. But let us all to-day combine Still other monuments to raise, Here for the Dead we build a shrine,

And how to those who, crippled, pine,
Let us give hope of happier days!
Let Homes for these sad wreeks of war Through all the land with speed arise; Tongues cry from every gaping scar "Let not our brothers' tomb debar
The wounded living from your eyes."

A noble day, a deed as good,
A noble scene in which 'tis done, The Birthday of our Nationhood: And here again the Nation stood, On this same day—its life re-won!
A bloom of banners in the air, A double calm of sky and soul : Triumphal chant and bugle blare, And green fields spreading bright and fair, While Heavenward our Hosannas roll.

Hosanna for a land redeemed. The bayonet sheathed, the cannon dumb, Passed as some horror we have dreamed, The fiery meteors that here streamed, Threatening within our homes to come.

Again our hanner floats abroad,

Gone the one stain that on it fell,— And, bettered by His chastening rod, With streaming eyes uplift to God, We say, HE DOETH ALL THINGS WELL!

Then, what becomes of this truthfully severe upon them that we do excuse? Why this apology for a man like this? Three months after he had committhe battle of Ossawatomie. It was on that and frets, the conservative massess of the night, about 11 o'clock, as testified by Mrs. Doyle, as testified by her son, as testified by Mr. Harris—these men, innocent, unoffending men-were taken out, and in the mighnight hour, and in the forest, and on the road-side, fell victims to the insatiate thirst of John Brown for blood. Then it was that those murders were committed, that hell entered his heart, not the iron his soul. Then it was that he shrank from the dimensions of a human being, into those of a reptile. Then it was, if not before, that he changed his character to a demor who had lost all the virtues of a man. And you talk about sympathy for John Brown!

"John Brown stands before the country a murderer. The enormity, the extraordinary ferociousness of the father set the son mad. The blood of these murdered men -not unlike that of sacrificed. Abel-cried even from the tongueless caverns of the earth to him for pity, and to Heaven for justice; but his iron heart, not soul, refused to yield; but Heaven, in the process of time, has meted out to him justice on the gallows. Justice divine to punish sin move; slow-the slower its pace, the surer is its blow. It will overtake us if livingit will evertake us if dead. Justice has overtaken its victim, and he has gone to eternity with crimsoned hands, with blood upon his head. "But the Senator talks about the school in which John Brown was taught. Why, sir, John Brown, according to his own confession, had entertained these ideas for twenty years: John Brown did not go to brued his hands in their blood. These were grain of corn. Myriads of these pests are devastating the point of lids, devouring the plant until it leeks like a dead branch.—

The crop has already been seriously injured by it, and it threatens its complete destruction. Last year a law of the pests were found, but this year the number has multiplied to such an extent that potato growers are despaning of their crops.

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call Schofula lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of nien. It either produces or is produced by an en-feebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes in-ATTACOMPTED TO SUSTAIN COMPTED T leaves the system to decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low hving, disordered digestion from unlealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the origins it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and come ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce gestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigora-tion of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Wcaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in Aven's American Almanac, which is furnished to the druggista for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every-reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from one who can speak to him of its lengths from personal experience. Scrotilla depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of Avia's FARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of Ingredients, some of which exceed the leet of Narsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffer-ing and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that not and fo in the blood, purge out the can es of di case, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Snsapardla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abun dant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effeetual than any other which has ever been
